Video Screenings: Outsourcing (The Invisible Hand)

Outsourcing (The Invisible Hand) comprises a selection of videos by international artists examining the liberal economy utopia from different perspectives. The videos showcased in this program represent a critical and engaged insight into the principles, peripheries and often forgotten effects of the miraculous liberal model. Combining the hectic rhythm and aesthetics of spots and music videos, performance documentary and film archive footage, the artists included in this program address the fears, indifference, violence and exploitation that liberal strategies such as outsourcing provoke and leave spitefully unobserved.
